

Disclaimer

This website is wholly owned, created and designed by Sansa Kanoon Pranali - Advocates & Consultants and is not in violation of the Advocates Act, 1961, which prohibits soliciting or advertising legal services directly or indirectly. As per Rule 36 of the Bar Council of India Rules, advocates furnishing information on a website must do so in a prescribed format under the Schedule of the Rules. Accordingly, the website may display the name, address, contact information including phone number and email ID, professional qualifications, and areas of practice. This website is solely intended to furnish only such details for the benefit of our clients.

Sansa Kanoon Pranali - Advocates & Consultants strictly adheres to the law and does not support or partake in any non-compliance, operating within the confines of the restrictions and allowances provided under the Advocates Act, 1961. This website does not endorse the activity of advocates in India soliciting work or advertising, either directly or indirectly by circulars, advertisements, personal communications or interviews, or furnishing or inspiring newspaper comments or producing photographs to be published in connection with their cases.